How to create an HTML page with embedded videos
This tutorial shows how to create an HTML page that has an embedded video in it. These steps will work for any video site, such as YouTube or Vimeo, that provides embed code.

1. Login at http://sakai.unc.edu

2. Select the course that you want to add this page to, and then click on the “Resources” link on the left hand side.

3. You may use a folder already created or create a new folder by clicking “Create Folders” in the Add dropdown.

4. Under the Add dropdown of the folder you want to use, click on “Create HTML Page.”

5. The box that appears has a toolbar that works a lot and looks similar to Microsoft Office Word.

6. If you have a Youtube video you would like to embed you would first type in a short description of the video.

7. Click “Source” on the toolbar.
8. Select and Copy the Embed code from the YouTube site

9. Paste it in the Sakai Message Body making sure that “Source” is still selected.

10. Select “Continue.”
11. Name the new page and give it a description.

- Under Availability and Access, select your preferences for this content item.
- Under E-mail Notification, select whether you want to send an email notification that this content item has been added.

12. Select “Finish.”

13. Now, when you click on the link (in internet Explorer a popup will appear and you will need to select “Yes”), you should be able to view the YouTube video.
Sakai Tutorial: Embedding Video into a Page

If you would like to make the page appear on the left hand side:

1. Go to its Actions dropdown next to the page that you want the URL for and click “Edit Details.”

2. Scroll down to Web address (URL) and click the “Select URL for copying.”

3. Create a “Web Content” link by going to Site Editor, Tools, Web Content

4. Give the page a Title and paste the URL

5. Select “Continue”.

6. If you would like to change the positioning of the link, select the “Page Order” link from the “Site Info” tool menu.
